

CTS Dedicated Service Award

The CTS Dedicated Service Award recognizes the dedication and commitment of individuals who have furthered the work of the CTS in respiratory health.

The award honours an individual who demonstrates exceptional dedication and service to respiratory health, by:

- Demonstrating outstanding compassion, support and commitment to patients and colleagues
- Enhancing clinical care in his or her community
- Demonstrating commitment to and/or contribution to the development of a culture of collegiality and collaboration

Nominations Process:

A call for nominations for this award will be issued annually. Only CTS members may submit nominations. The nomination form must be accompanied by the proposed candidate's curriculum vitae and two letters of support.

Nominations will be reviewed by the CTS Long Term Planning Committee who will recommend a candidate for approval by the CTS Executive Committee.

The inaugural CTS Dedicated Service Award will be presented at a time and occasion most appropriate to honouring the recipient.
